Quantity Buying Guide

Many of you are planning cookouts, family reunions or picnics for large crowds. I wish to share with you this week some information that will make your food shopping easier as you plan for those crowds this summer.

BREAD - A one-pound loaf makes about 18 slices, 3/8" thick. For 50 sandwiches, allow six loaves. Allow two slices per serving unless yours is a do-it-yourself sandwich party. In this case, you need to plan a little more because at a do-it-yourself sandwich party people eat more than when you have made the sandwiches ahead of time.

CRACKERS - When serving 50 people, allow at least three pounds of your favorite crackers if you have cheeses and other spreads.

ROLLS - Allow two rolls per serving for men and 1½ rolls per serving for women. There are many good recipes where you can make your rolls ahead of time. Some can be frozen and others can be prepared the brown and serve method, so at the last minute all you have to do is bake them.

BUTTER - One pound of butter will spread 50 sandwiches. One and a half pounds of butter, each ¼ pound stick will cut into 16 pats and will serve 50 people, allowing two pats per serving. Many people find that it is real convenient to use some of the squeeze type margarines for picnics. This cuts out the fuss and bother of having to prepare the butter in pats and then on a hot day having them melt.

JAM - Three one-pound jars of jam will spread 50 sandwiches. This is especially helpful to know if you are going to be preparing peanut butter and jelly sandwiches for young people.

SANDWICH FILLINGS - Plan on two quarts of a sandwich filling to spread 50 sandwiches. Be extremely careful with sandwich fillings that have mayonnaise or eggs in them. These can be a problem if you are taking them where you will not have refrigeration or a good place to keep them cool.

MAYONNAISE - One-half pint jar will spread 50 sandwiches if you are stingy with the mayonnaise. If you prefer a more generous serving of mayonnaise, you should plan on a pint per 50 people.

PEANUT BUTTER - Three one-pound jars will spread 50 sandwiches. Peanut butter and jelly make an excellent combination for a child's or young people's picnic. It also makes an excellent sandwich that can be safely carried without refrigeration or cooling.

LETTUCE - Three medium heads of lettuce will garnish 50 sandwiches.

COOKIES - When making cookies for a picnic or a large gathering, why not make them larger. The children love a large cookies. Remember the small cookies are great for tea parties. When planning for a picnic or cookout, allow one large or two small cookies per serving for adults, but double this for children.

PIE - A nine-inch pie makes seven servings. Allow eight pies for 50 people. I would suggest that if you have a variety of pies at a cookout or picnic that you make the slices smaller. Therefore, the people might like a small serving of more than one kind.

CAKE - A 9 x 13-inch sheet cake makes 30 servings. Please do not cut cake slices or squares too large. Four 8-inch round two layer cakes make 48 servings. Four 9-inch round two layer cakes make 48 servings slightly larger.

HEAVY CREAM - Whip one quart heavy cream to top 50 desserts or make two quarts of any of your favorite whipped topping mix.

ICE CREAM - Allow ½ pint per serving, two gallons for 50 people. If you are using ice cream as topping for pie or cake, allow five quarts for this (1/5 pint per serving).

COFFEE - A one-pound can of coffee makes 40 cups of brewed drink, ¾ cup each. 6-¼ cups of ground coffee will make 50 cups of brew.

TEA - One cup of loose tea leaves and two gallons of boiling water will make 40 cups. Please follow package directions on a tea package if you are using tea bags.

CREAM FOR COFFEE - Allow 1½ tablespoons per cup of coffee or tea. This would equal to 1¼ quarts for 50 people.

SUGAR - Allow two teaspoons of sugar or two sugar lumps per cup of coffee or tea. This would euql to 1 -1/8 pounds of sugar to take care of 50 cups. Of course, if you are serving 50 people, you would want to have additional tea or coffee to drink.

PUNCH - Two gallons of punch will serve 50 people, ⅔ cup each, or 64 servings of 4 ounces each. If it is a hot summer day, you need to allow at least two servings per adult and 1½ servings per child of punch.

Homemakers, I hope this information will help you as you plan some of your summer outings. If we can help you at the Appomattox County Extension Office with any of your plans or any of your quantity buying, please call us at 352-8244 or write us at P. O. Box 488, Appomattox, Virginia 24522.

Recipe of the Week
Betty's Cheese Wafers

Note: Many thanks to Mrs. Betty Webb for sharing this month-watering recipe with us. She served this at a recent homemaker's meeting and everyone wanted a copy. Please note that Mrs. Webb has added some interesting notes on how she varies the recipe.

1 cup rice cereal
1 cup flour
1 stick margarine (melted)
6 oz. sharp cheese grated (1½ cups)
¼ teaspoon onion salt
⅛ teaspon Tabasco Sauce

Mix all together until smooth dough is made. I increased the onion salt and tabasco sauce to ½ teaspoon each. Can add a dash of garlic salt. If you don't have tabasco sauce on hand a dash of ceyenne pepper will substitute. Sometimes I use 2 cups flour and leave out the rice crispies. When I do this I add just a little more oleo. Form into small balls. Flatten with a fork. Bake 12 to 15 minutes in 325 degreen oven. (I topped each wafer with toasted pecans.)

CONCORD ELEM-SCHOOL 4-H'ERS PREPARE WILDLIFE FEEDPATCH

Near 90 degree heat and the bubble gum chewer didn't help much in getting the feedpatch planted, however members of Mrs. Hahn's 4-H Club at the Concord Elementary School took time from their busy schedule to prepare and plant a wildlife feedpatch at the school. The purpose in planting the feedpatch is to provide seed for game animals and birds during the fall and winter months when food is in short supply.

Seed for the wildlife feedpatch program is provided by the Va. Game Commission. Members of Mrs. Hahn's 4-H club are playing an important role in providing for our wild friends.

Class of '28 Holds Reunion

On Saturday night, June 10, the class of 1928 of Appomattox High School held its fiftieth reunion at the John Mosby Inn with Mrs. Lucy LeGrand Furney presiding. After an hour of socializing and reminiscing, they were served a delicious dinner by the John Mosby staff.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Furney formally welcomed the class members, their spouses and their guests. Three teachers were in attendance: Mrs. Elaine Spencer, Miss Kate O'Brien and Mrs. Helene Welch Harvey.

Mrs. Harvey called the roll, after which each member of the class was asked to review the highlights of his or her life during the fifty years since they finished high school. These reports were most interesting and highly entertaining.

Mrs. Mary Jamerson Harris read the last will and testament of the class, which brought back many memories.

Later Mrs. Susie Moon Martin conducted a most impressive memorial service, remembering the seven members of the class who had passed away.

After this the meeting closed with all of those present wishing each other Godspeed and hoping to meet again.
